Thomas D. Poland is doing a fine job of painting on the residence of Herbert Platt on Beckett street. "Tom" can turn his hand to almost any thing, and the best of it is, he "does it up brown"—or any other color, either, for that matter—and takes pride in doing it right.

Well, we almost begin to realize that our town is indeed improving, not only from a business viewpoint, but in many other ways. With a good word for everything and everybody, especially the stranger, there is no reason why our wide-awake, embryo borough, with its already established lines of business and other prospective ones, should not with a steady, all together pull and push on the part of us all be fully realized. We need co-operation; let us have it.

RANDOLPH.

The Sanatorium to Be Enlarged at Considerable Expense.

A plan for addition and improvement was presented at a meeting of the stockholders of the sanatorium at the parish house on Friday night of last week.

The plan provides for a two-story addition, 30x20 inch veneer to be built at the rear of the sanatorium which will contain on the second floor a larger and better equipped operating room and a modern sterilizing room. It also provides for a dining room for the nurses on the first floor, a room for the head nurse, and a kitchen so arranged that the orders will not penetrate the whole house and a large cold storage place. It was estimated that the proposed improvements would cost $3,200 exclusive of the elevator the equipment of the sterilizing and operating rooms from a tile floor, lighting and heating arrangements. Col. Chandler offered to contribute $1,000 towards the required funds, there is also available in the treasury $2,000 and $2,000 more would probably be required for the finishing, which would have to be provided by mortgage, subscription or loan. An increase of $100 per year from the enlargement of the sanatorium is also expected from the annual expenses. It was voted that the directors were empowered to procure the necessary funds and proceed with the work as planned. It is also thought that while the prospect of a debt was not feasible to all, the work will proceed as voted by the majority.
